

I: In your opinion, how could this service be better adapted to students with different learning styles?

P1: "It could be adapted by offering different levels of interaction. Some students learn better through visual stimuli, while others benefit more from discussion and comparison. Integrating moments of guided reflection, debates, and interactive content would make the experience more inclusive."